DR. CORI WONG PENS ARTICLE FOR PROFESSIONAL SAFETY JOURNAL

Assistance Vice President for Gender Equity, Dr. Cori Wong recently authored an article for Professional Safety, American Society of Safety Professionals’ flagship monthly journal. The article, entitled “Changing Organizational Culture: From Embedded Bias to Equity & Inclusion,” speaks directly to how developing a critical lens for gender can help safety professionals better address risks for workers at individual, group, and system levels, and more.

PRIDE RESOURCE CENTER OPEN HOUSE

Have you passed by the center couple of times but been too nervous to come in? Want to learn more about the Pride Resource Center? Join the team for their Open House to learn more about how to get connected and meet new people!

Friday, September 6th
3-5pm
Pride Resource Center
LSC 232
SAFE ZONE TRAINING
The Pride Resource Center’s Safe Zone program is open for registration for the fall and spring semesters. Safe Zone is a training program designed to reduce homophobia, transphobia and heterosexism at CSU, thereby making CSU a safer environment for all members of our community across sexual orientations, romantic orientations, gender identities, gender expressions and intersections of identities. We aim to create a network of students, faculty and staff [like you!] who are committed to ongoing education and advocacy in order to support LGBTQ communities at CSU. Sign up for a Safe Zone Training [here].

VISIBLE VOICES PANEL
Are you looking to integrate LGBTQ+ perspectives into your classroom? Request a Visible Voices Panel! Visible Voices is an educational program that is styled as a speakers bureau (panel) made up of CSU students, staff, faculty, and community members who volunteer to share about their experiences and coming out stories. This popular program has been a valuable educational tool used to inform students about the often times misunderstood issues surrounding gay, lesbian, bisexual, and transgender youth and their families. Our volunteers have spoken in classrooms, residence halls, churches, and other arenas. Request a Visible Voices panel [here].

OSHER LIFELONG LEARNING INSTITUTE OFFERS LGBTQ+ HISTORY COURSE
According to a recent Pew Research Center survey, 4 in 10 Americans have a gay or lesbian relative or close friend. Yet throughout our history, lesbian and gay people have struggled for legal and social equality, while at the same time building a community of pride and resistance. This course (Over the Rainbow and into the Mainstream: Lesbian and Gay History in America) will explore LGBT history from the closeted 1950s, through the AIDS crisis of the 1980s and 90s, and into the political and social challenges of the new millennium. Along the way, the class will meet some remarkable heroes, including LGBT Coloradans and their allies who have made a difference for all of us. Click [here] to register!
ZORA MURFF ARTIST TALK & RECEPTION

September 6, 2019 | 5-6:30PM
Organ Recital Hall, University Center for the Arts

Re-Making the Mark is an exhibition by Zora Murff presented in collaboration with the Center for Fine Art Photography. Murff’s work focuses on how images are used to reinforce social and cultural constructs including race and criminality. The exhibition examines the abhorrent practice of redlining. Coined by the sociologist John McKnight in the 1960s, the term redlining describes the practice of systematically denying services—such as access to banking, insurance, health care, or fresh food—to residence of specific communities, often on the basis of race.

More details about the event can be found here.
Introducing Feminist Frameworks!

Introducing Feminist Frameworks is a two-course online badge program that provides a functional framework for advancing critical understandings of feminism, intersectionality, gender, and systems of oppression.

Courses are self-paced and contain 5-7 modules that typically consist of a reading, video lecture, and multiple choice quiz. Students may enroll in one of both courses and have 3 months per course to complete.

Full-time CSU employees may be eligible for a 50% discount on tuition, reducing the cost to $37.50 for an individual course, or $63.50 when registering for both. For more information, please click here.

UPCOMING BROWN BAG DISCUSSIONS

If you’ve enrolled in the Introducing Feminist Frameworks online courses – or are considering enrolling and want a taste for the content – take advantage of the opportunity to more deeply engage with some of the material through small group discussions, led by Dr. Cori Wong. Bring your lunch and questions you’re reflecting on to continue learning in person and with others!

Discussion on Intersectionality | Wednesday, 9/18, 11:30am-12:30pm – Library Event Hall

Discussion on Who You Are and What We Know | Monday, 10/21, 11:30am-12:30pm – LSC 308

Discussion on Unpacking Privilege | Monday, 11/13, 11:30am-12:30pm – LSC 322

These discussion sessions are available to the public, including all CSU faculty, staff, and students.

SLDS OPENINGS

The Women & Gender Collaborative is seeking involvement from diverse employees across campus to serve on various programming and recommending committees. These committees will function under the Systems-Based Leadership Development through Service (SLDS) model, which has been developed to provide structure and support for campus-wide efforts under the Women & Gender Collaborative at CSU. The expectation is that all committee members and co-chairs will be equally invested in creating inclusive, accountable, and supportive working groups that develop leadership among all committee members as they work to advance gender equity at CSU through an intersectional approach regarding our policies, practices, and programs.

The following committees are looking for new members:

CSU Gender Summit Planning Committee
Dependent Care Committee
FFC@CSU Communication Group
FFC@CSU Cultural Impact Group
FFC@CSU Engagement Group
LGBTQ+ Network Programming Committee
(2 Co-Chair openings!)
Women’s Leadership Series Planning Committee.

Please indicate your interest in serving on a committee and participating in the SLDS model by filling out this online form.
